Allegations of wide spread physical and sexual abuse of female prisoners have been filed in federal: court against the Hancock Sheriff's Department. The suit was presented to the Hancock Board

Supervisors on Monday. The county, Sheriff Steve Garber, Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Farve, and a former sheriff's deputy Everett Gilkerson, have all been named as defendants in the suit filed by a former female prisoner held at the facility, Valarie Moran. Allegations, span a period of nine years, from 1995 through the fall of 2004. Sheriff's department Ronnie administrator Cuevas said that the department cannot comment on the allegations because of pending litigation George W. Healy IV, attorney for the plaintiff, also had no comment: County attorney Ronnie Artigues said Wednesday that he had not yet had a chance to talk to Garber or other department officials, who are attending a conference out of town.

"We will be setting up a meeting," said Artigues. "But at this point we believe the allegations are false.

County supervisors, Garber, and Farve are named in their official capacities as having ulti-mate responsibility for the operation of the jail. The plaintiff alleges that allegations of abuse were well known throughout the jail and by many members of the community at large.

Second Saturday Artwalk 2005

Popular coastal artist Lori Gordon is showing a new series of paintings at Quarter Moon Gallery in Bay St. Louis. The show is titled "End of the Road" and will open on June 11 during the 2nd Saturday Artwalk. This latest series of work focuses on the land and seascapes of her home in coastal Mississippi, and includes both representational and abstract paintings.

Gordon explains that the title of her show has a double meaning. Fifteen years ago, the artist made the hamlet of Clermont Harbor her home. The town is situated on the beach road, only a mile from where that road ends at Bayou Caddy.

But the title also refers to the very real possibility that her cherished neighborhood is in imminent danger of being swallowed entirely by high rise developments. Gordon says, "If this trend of thoughtless, environmentally insensitive developing comes to pass in Hancock County, it will surely be the

In addition to these more traditional landscapes, Gordon is also showing abstract works. In these pieces, she has discarded her paintbrush in favor of what she calls the "pour style" of painting. With this technique, thinned acrylics are allowed to flow over paper, picking up texture and definition from items which are laid into the wet paint. In these paintings. the artist has given herself free rein to interpret her environment in a new and exciting fashion.

Join Lori Gordon at Quarter Moon Gallery for the opening reception on Saturday, June 11 from 5-8 p.m. Quarter Moon Gallery is located on the first block of Main Street, next to the courthouse. Refreshments will be served, and live music will be provided by the Desoto Street Band. For more information, call 228-467-7279:

Waveland to focus on road improvements

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER Staff Writer

Several projects will be underway in Waveland this summer and fall. Work on Nicholson Ave., though delayed, will begin this week, said Mayor Tommy Longo on Tuesday. The state funded project will refurbish the road from Hwy. 90 to the railroad tracks and add needed drainage. City engineer Bruce Newton said a bid from Warren Paving for the overlay and drainage refurbishment of Old Spanish do of Coleman Ave. are 98 Trail came in at about percent complete, Newton $3,000 under his engineer's said. The design will be finestimate at $564,000. The ished by the end of the bid must be approved by month. Planners are work- from the home of Jimmy attorney Butterworth Mississippi Department Of Transportation. Work should begin in about a month, Newton said.

A lighting projected slated for Hwy. 90 and Hwy. 603 will have to be re-bid, said Newton. Three bids were submitted, but only one was received in proper form. Funding agencies will require the job to be re-bid, said Newton. The delay will push the project back an additional 30 days.

Plans for the complete re-

ing with business owners on the Avenue to work out the best time to begin the nine month project that will completely change the face of the street. Newton said preliminary plans are to begin right after Crusin' the Coast in October.

In other business:

• Planning commissioners gave permission to two residents to remove three Live Oak trees larger than the 18 inches, which makes the trees a protected species. Two of the trees will be removed so that David Allison of Beach Blvd. can construct a residence with approved setbacks. Another large tree will be removed LaFontaine. Commissioner Scott Blackwell said the tree is rotting and has damaged the LaFontaine home. • Residents came to complain about inadequate drainage during recent heavy rains. Newton said drainage work on OST should alleviate some of the problems. A comprehensive plan for drainage rehabilitation is close to being finished. The plan will change the way subdivisions are built in the city, Newton said.Some residents also complained that developers working in the city allow work crews to fill city ditches with pallets, plastic, and other debris, causing more problems with drainage.

We then went home, looked up the number for the hospital and called them. We were told to park in one of the doctor's office parking lots across from the emergency room and walk across the foot bridge over the drainage canal. We were told we would be given a sticker allowing us access. When we approached the area the policeman on duty did not know anything about this. He asked some people sitting at a table, they were obviously involved in the drill, if they knew what to do. They did not seem to know either. Luckily someone from the hospital staff who knew about the procedure for letting in scheduled patients walked up at that point and told us to go to the entry door next to emergency and we would be allowed in.

We had to wait about two hours for her procedure because she missed her scheduled time. This was a minor inconvenience for us and I hope this drill did not cause any major problems for any patients.

My only reason for writing this is that hopefully there will be a better coordination in any future events between the hospital outpatients and the police department regarding scheduled outpatient procedures.

Sullivan strongly contended that just the Senate's mere authority to adopt rules of proceedings could not be the basis to abrogate its primary constitutional function and confer full legislative powers to an officer in the executive branch.

time Dye's heavy-handedness in controlling legislation and his ties with lobbyists for utility and business interests were well known.

Dye, elected three times and defeated only when he sought a fourth term, is generally, considered as the most powerful lieutenant governor in state history. Though himself a Democrat who served under three Democratic governors, Dye was never a team player, mostly using his post to serve his own political base and special interests.

Because the state Supreme Court only three years before had ruled that state legislators serving on state boards or commissions violated the constitutional separation of powers, the betting strongly favored that the Taylor-Hale Senate rules challenge on similar grounds would also prevail.

But in the meantime. campaign fueled by lobbyists was launched behind the scenes to sway public opinion that the challenge was primarily a personal vendetta against Dye and not about a fundamental separation of powers ques-

Somehow, the ground shifted and the high court, in a split decision, ruled for Dye, with then-Justice James Robertson, considered the most liberal member of the court, writing the controlling opinion.

No senator since Taylor and Hale has dared to challenge the Senate rule conferring legislative powers to the lieutenant governor, a provision that crept into the rules back around 1912.

Taylor, back home a week ago during Congress' Memorial Day break, declared: "I believed we were right back then, and I still believe we were."

Taylor added: "the mistake we made then was not of super-partisan politics.

Mike Sullivan was indeed accurate in writing 18 years ago that failure of the Supreme Court to strip the lieutenant governor of powers delegated by Senate rules would make him/her a "super-senator" with broad control of the entire Senate.

But as prescient as he was he couldn't have conceived of today's situation at the Capitol where the job of lieutenant governor has also been converted to a tool

Publication awards presented to NRL SSC researchers

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Eight researchers from Naval Research Laboratory (NRL SSC) recently received the Alan Berman Annual Research and Publication Awards at a ceremony in Washington, D.C. These awards were established in 1968 by then NRL Director of Research, Dr. Alan Berman, to recognize the authors of the best NRL publications of the preceding calendar year. In 1982, the annual awards program was renamed in honor of its founder to the Alan Berman Research Publication Awards. Since 1991, the awards ceremony has also included recognition for outstanding patents granted to NRL researchers and now is officially called the Alan Berman Annual Research Publication and Edison (Patent) Awards.

The awards recognize individuals for superior scientific accomplishments in the field of Naval research and also seeks to promote continued excellence in research and in its documentation.

Oceanography The Division is the major center for in-house Navy research development in oceanography. It is known nationally and internationally for its combination of theoretical, numerical, and experimental approaches to oceanographic problems.

From the Oceanography Division:

Mr. Jason S. Lee, Mr. J. Little for "An Evaluation of Carbon Steel Corrosion under Stagnant Seawater Conditions."

Mr. Lee is a 1994 graduate of the University of Michigan where he received his Bachelor's Degree in chemistry cellular/molecular biology.

His Master's Degree in Materials Science and Engineering (MS&E) was earned from the University of Virginia and he is classified as an oceanographer in the Ocean Sciences Branch and is currently working on his Doctorate Degree in

of Virginia. Mr. Ricky Ray joined NRL in 1983 as a Physical Science Technician. He received his Bachelor's Degree in biology with a minor in chemistry from the University of Southern Mississippi and is also a previous recipient of a Berman Publication Award. Mr. Ray is a Physical Scientist in the Ocean Sciences Branch and also serves as the Diving Officer for the NRL Scientific Dive Team.

Dr. Little began her career in 1972 as a Biochemist with the General Electric Company, and her career with NRL (then the Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity) in 1976. Her widely published career consists of one book, numerous book chapters, technical and memorandum reports, more than 80 refereed journal articles, and over 100 symposium proceedings.

Dr. Zhong-Ping Lee, an oceanographer in the Ocean Sciences Branch, Ocean Optics Section, received his award for "Effects of Molecular and Particle Scatterings on the Model Parameter for Remote-Sensing Reflectance." Dr. Lee earned his Bachelor's degree in optical physics, and Master's Degree in laser application from University, Sichuan Chengdu, China in 1984. His Doctorate work in ocean-color remote sensing was completed at the University of South Florida, St. Petersburg in 1994. He is a member of the Optical Society of America, the American Geophysical Union, the American Society of Limnology and Oceanography and is currently serving as Topical Editor for Applied Optics. Dr. Kendall L. Carder and Dr. KePing Du co-authored this publication. The Acoustic Simulation, Measurements, and Tactics Branch's research program focuses on the theoretical understanding and numerical modeling of acoustic wave interaction with the marine environment, the measurement and characterization of environmental acoustics phenomena, and the development of environmental acoustic computer models and data bases to be used by the Fleet for prediction, system performance estimation, and tactical strategy planning.

Dr. Pedro M. Jordan began his NRL career in a post-doctoral position in 1999 as a physicist in this Branch and moved to the position of research physicist in 2003. His award is for the publication "An Study of Analytical Equation: Kuznetsov's Diffusive Solitons, Shock Formation, and Solution Bifurcation" [Phys. Lett. A326, 77-84 (2004)].

New drug program helps more than 9,000 Mississippi residents in first four weeks

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Partnership for Prescription Assistance of Mississippi, the state chapter of a nationwide program to help patients in need get prescription medicines, is generating an outpouring of inquiries from patients across the state.

Since its launch on April 25, the Partnership for Prescription Assistance of Mississippi has matched more than 9,000 people to patient assistance programs that meet their needs.

"I am thrilled that this new program already is benefiting thousands of people in Mississippi," said Beth Embry, executive director of the Mississippi Family Academy of Physicians. "We will continue to work with our partners in Mississippi to help those in need get the prescription medicines they need to live healthier lives."

The Partnership for Prescription Assistance of Mississippi - the state chapter of the nationwide program known as the Partnership for Prescription Assistance – brings together America's pharmaceutical companies, doctors and other health care providers, patient advocates and community leaders to help patients find the public or private patient assistance program that's right for them. Through it's toll-free phone number and userfriendly Web site, the Partnership for Prescription Assistance of Mississippi provides a single point of access to more than 275 public and private patient assistance programs, including more than 150 programs offered by pharmaceutical companies. More than 40 state and local organizations, including American Cancer Society, the Mississippi Psychiatric Association and the NAACP, have joined the Partnership for Prescription Assistance of Mississippi to help increase awareness of and enrollment in patient assistance programs.

"It's encouraging that needs." people are responding so strongly to the Partnership for Prescription Assistance of Mississippi," said Embry. "This initiative already is proving to be a powerful tool in helping the uninsured underinsured in Mississippi find assistance programs that meet their

After Saltarelli and a U.S. Marshall made positive identification of Easley and where he was residing, Slidell's SWAT team, numerous Slidell officers, St. Tammany Parish sheriff's deputies, attempted to arrest him, but he fled into the apartment.

The officer who shot Easley was not identified by Waveland's Police Chief Jimmy Varnell.

s always, the Mississippi/Ala bama All Star Classic at Stadium in Mobile was surrounded in excitement on Saturday, June 4. There were tremendous players on both sides of the ball for both states. There were highly accomplished coaches on each staff leading the players. The game went down to the wire. There was electricity in the air. Then, there was Lee Klein, the 5-11 212-lb linebacker from St. Stanislaus College. Klein led a stingy Mississippi defense and vocally charged his Mississippi offense to a thrilling 21-18 win over the Alabama All Stars on Saturday The win ended a six-year drought for Mississippi in the annual clash: Klein hád a phenomenal game calling signals on defense for Mississippi as he fallied 12 total tackles, a fumble recovery and a pass break-up. He only left the field on offense as he also lined up as the deep snapper for punts and PATs and played on the kickoff and kickoff return teams. Klein commented that 7-3. winning the all star game had worked for in high school. Klein was a fouryear starter at SSC at linebacker and tallied 490 total tackles in his career, just 11 shy of tying the all-time record. He left SSC as the all-time leader in tackles for loss with 55 for minus-176 yards. He led SSC from a 2-8 record his freshman season to a 9-2 record in 2004 and the school's first-ever division title on the gridiron. In 43 career games, he averaged 11 total tackles per game.

He was asked if he thought he belonged in the all star game and he stated, "I felt nervous on Saturday as we were going through drills and suiting up. I was remembering all the adversity that I had gone through to get to this point. I realized that I was on the field with the some of the best players in our region, our state and even our country. But, when I made that first hit in the game, I knew that I was right where I supposed to be. It was very gratifying to know that I was representing my family, St. Stanislaus and the state of Mississippi on a stage like this."

In the game, Alabama wasted no time in getting on the scoreboard during their first offensive set after stopping the opening drive by Mississippi. Jarod Bryant, who will play for Navy, used a mixture of deft passing and elusive running to get Alabama a field goal attempt. Alex Burkett split the uprights from 40 yards out with 9:44 remaining in the first quarter to put Alabama ahead 3-0.

Mississippi had a difficult time getting things going on their next series and had to punt away. Alabama took over at their own 14 yardline.

Klein stuffed Desmond Jennings for a loss on their first play of the drive. Two plays later, a miscue in the Bama backfield left the pigskin free on the ground. Klein recovered the loose

The Mississippi offense entered the field with St. Stanislaus fullback Jordan Ellis opening holes for Derek Pegues. On two occasions during the short-lived series. Ellis pancaked a defender to spring Pegues free for a gain including a first down run. Eventually a fumble ended the drve for Mississippi at the Alabama 47 yardline.

Alabama needed six plays to find the endzone on their next drive. 'Klein twice dropped runners for minimal gains Bryant connected with Jennings for a 42 yard gain down to the Mississippi one yardline. Harris Johnson found the endzone from oneyard out with 10:12 left before halftime. Burkett connected on the PAT to make the score 10-7.

... Mississippi was unable to get going on offense during their next set but received the ball back quickly. Klein punished the Alabama backfield on three consecutive plays. He twice dropped runners for a loss of 11 yards and stopped the third down play after a gain of only three yards to force a punting situation for Bama.

A muffed punt gave Mississippi the ball at the Alabama 37 yardline. A field goal attempt by Hoorman was blocked which turned possession back over to Alabama.

Bama was unable to get things going on offense and was forced to punt the pigskin away. They pinned Mississippi at their own five vardline.

Johns connected with Eric Nicks for a gain to the 28 yardline. Then, the much-heralded Mississippi line and shot through an open lane for a 72-yard scoring run with 1:28 left before halftime. carries for 102 yards.

On the second series of Alabama's next offensive the second half, Jimmy was like winning a state series quickly came to a Johns drove the Mississippi championship. For him, it close on third down when squad 58 yards for a touch- ble and determined in his was a culmination of all he Klein crushed Aubrey Bell down capped by his one-pursuit of excellence and yard scoring run with :59 that is what was really left in the third period. rewarded on Saturday night Hoorman's kick was good in Mobile. making the score 21-10.

However, two series into the fourth period Alabama added drama to an already exhilarating game. Bryant went 3-for-4 for 58 yards including his 41-yard scoring strike to Tyler Grisham with 7:56 remaining in the game. Bryant made the score 21-18 with a two-point conversion pass to Gabe McKenzie.

Mississippi needed only to protect the lead with their ground game to end the streak and they did just that. Ellis and Nicks alternated at fullback to help open holes for the Mississippi ground game.

On their last drive of the game, Alabama put together a 10-play drive starting from their own 25-yardline. With no timeouts remaining and desperation in their eyes, Alabama went to the air. On fourth down from the Mississippi 48 yardline, Bryant dropped back and tried to connect with Montez Billings on what would have been a first down reception. However, on the coverage was the Mississippi MVP Lee Klein who broke up the pass to end the Alabama threat and the streak.

SSC head coach Casey Wittmann was in the stands watching his standout and commented, "Lee Klein can be summed up in one simple phrase -very special young People say good man. things come to those who wait. # Bryan named to USAA

United States Achievement Academy has announced that Ashley Bryan from Bay St. Louis has been named a United States National Award Winner in mathematics.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes fewer than 10% of all American high school students. Bryan who attends Hancock Middle was nominated for this national award by Mr. Bales a teacher at the school.

She will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published national-

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United Achievement

Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors, and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or direc-

Bryan is the daughter of Michael and Jackie Bryan from Bay St. Louis. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dardar of Point-Aux-Chene, LA, and Margaret Creel and Gene Bryan of Bay St. Louis.

Coast Summer Fair starts this week

The Mississippi Coast Coliseum's Summer Fair is scheduled for June 9 through June 19. The ten day event is open free to the public and offers something for the young and young at Back by popular demand is the Show-Me Safari Petting Zoo. Feed and pet a kangaroo, llamas, alpacas, fallow deer, african Pigme Goats and more.

Visitors can also learn about big cats, monkeys, magnificent birds and other exotic animals at Amazing Animals Adventure. This exciting show offers visitors the opportunity to get up close and personal with these wonderful animals through their walk through tour. And of course, visitors won't want to miss the high speed excitement of the Show-Me Pig Races. You'll laugh with delight, as these speedy porkers race for the finish line for the ultimate prize... an Oreo cookie!

For the little wrangler's there's all the fun and excitement of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show and Farmer Earl will have you in stitches as he introduces the funny side of farming. Each of these events are free and guaranteed to be loads of fun.

Other attractions include the Artist, Corvette/Mustang Show, WBA Gulf Coast Bandits, the Talladega plus Experience, and more. For the adults, the Summer Fair offers great entertainment through the Miller Rocks Cafe.

Admission to the Summer Fair is always free as are most of the shows. For more information about times,

Contract Postal Units are operated by private individuals/businesses under a partnership with the Postal Service and provide a convenient outlet for customers to mail Priority Mail™, Express Mail® or international packages, as well as the purchase of stamps and most other services offered by USPS.

Interested individuals/business owners should call

228-831-5424 or 228-466-3902 before June 15th to request a solicitation package or obtain additional information.
